Navy MWR Esports Overview

Navy MWR Esports is a Community Recreation initiative designed to provide entertainment and recreation opportunities through competitive sports. This multidimensional initiative will also increase programming opportunities at MWR Liberty Centers through technological improvements and provide top-quality esports competitions to the Navy community.

Navy MWR will broadcast various esports and gaming content on the newly-established Navy MWR Twitch social media channel at www.twitch.tv/navymwr.

What is Twitch?

Twitch is an online social media site similar to YouTube that allows users to watch or broadcast live streaming or upload prerecorded video content. The videos focus on gameplay and other esports subjects. A Twitch broadcast often includes audio commentary from the player or commentators, and video coverage of the player might appear on the edge of the screen via their webcam.

Tournament Information

Navy MWR Esports:

Navy MWR has partnered with Twitch to deliver a dynamic tournament that will be broadcast live. The online competition will hold 10 tournaments, with 128 maximum competitors per tournament. The game title will be Rocket League.

Want to be a part of the action? Authorized MWR patrons are encouraged to sign up and participate! Visit the “How to sign up” page for more details.

Catch the event weekly featuring Sailors from around the world. See which Sailor will take home the title each night! Watch the live stream at www.twitch.tv/NavyMWR.

How to sign up:

1. Visit the “How to sign up” page at www.navymwr.org/programs/esports/sign-up.
2. Fill out the form and hit send.
3. You will receive a confirmation that your sign-up request has been received.
4. A Navy MWR staff member will contact you with further instructions and provide you with a short code that will be used to play on the day of the tournament.
5. On the day of the tournament, use the code to log in and be ready to compete.
