VENDOR #:	302383
DATE:	03/13
DATING POLICY:	2 YEARS
SAMPLE CODE:	1246-H2
INTERPRETATION:	The 124 denotes the day the product was run in this case 8-29-12 (Julian date code that counts down from Jan 1 starting at 365, as of Aug 29 there are 124 days left in the year) The 6 denotes the batch in the day specific to each job based on what is running on a daily basis, internal number that follows all the batch cards, C of A etc.. The H represents the month in which it was made in this case H = August (Jan = A, Feb = B, etc.) The 2 represents the year in which the product was produced, in this case 2 = 2012 (3 = 2013, 4 = 2014) The basic thing to remember is the last two characters. H2 is August of 2012 (H-August, 2-2012) and is good for 2 years.

SPICE GALORE

VENDOR #:	301926
DATE:	1/10
DATING POLICY:	MFG DATE
SAMPLE CODE:	4160
INTERPRETATION:	To obtain the year, add 5 to the first digit (4+5=9) and take the last digit of this number for the year, so the year of manufacture is 2009. To obtain the month and day, divide the last three digits by 50 (160/50=3) with 10 remaining). The 3 indicates the number of complete months before the production month, January, February, March, April is the month of the production and the remaining 10 is the day of the month.
